THE
JOHN F. SLATER FUND

PROCEEDINGS
AND REPORTS

For Year Ending September 30, 1923

"It is my wish that this trust be administered in no partisan, sectional, or sectarian spirit, but in the interest of a generous patriotism and an enlightened Christian faith. I am encouraged to the execution in this charitable foundation of a long-cherished purpose, by the eminent wisdom and success that has marked the conduct of the Peabody Education Fund in a field of operation not remote from that contemplated by this trust. I shall commit it to your hands, deeply conscious how insufficient is our best forecast to provide for the future that is known only to God, but humbly hoping that the administration of it may be so guided by divine wisdom as to be, in its turn, an encouragement to philanthropic enterprise on the part of others, and an enduring means of good to our beloved country and to our fellowmen."

JOHN F. SLATER, March 4, 1882.

"On the 18th of May, 1882, Mr. Slater met the Board of Trustees in the city of New York and transferred to them the sum of one million dollars, a little more than half of it being already invested, and the remainder being cash to be invested at the discretion of the Board. On that occasion the Trustees addressed him a letter acknowledging his generosity, and they invited him always to attend their meetings; but he never met with them again, and declined to guide in any way their subsequent action. The gift of Mr. Slater was acknowledged by expressions of gratitude from every part of the country.

"The characteristics of this gift were its Christian spirit, its patriotism, its munificence, and its freedom from all secondary purposes, or hampering conditions. In broad and general terms, the donor indicated the object which he had in view; the details of management he left to others, confident that their collective wisdom and the experience they must acquire would devise better modes of procedure, as the years go on, than any individual could propose in advance."

From Memorial Sketch of John F. Slater, by Dr. Daniel C. Gilman, of Baltimore, then Secretary of the Board (1884).

The President presented a statement showing that there are 179 County Training Schools on the list for the session 1922-23, an increase of 23 over the number of the preceding session.

In view of the possible need of more funds for County Training Schools the President asked that an additional appropriation of $5,000 be granted from the Peabody Fund for the session of 1922-23. On motion duly seconded a resolution was passed to this effect.

The President reported that most of the denominational schools and colleges to which appropriations are made from the Slater Fund had been visited during the past session by Mr. Caldwell, Mr. Williams, or himself. The growing spirit of coöperation between such institutions and the public school system was found to be most satisfactory. It must be largely from these institutions that teachers can be supplied for the Training Schools and the public schools generally.

The meeting then adjourned.

Owing to the resignation of Mr. Fairfax Harrison, a vacancy existed in the Board, and Dr. Joseph Dupuy Eggleston, President of Hampden-Sidney College, Virginia, was nominated. There being no other nominations, the Secretary was instructed to cast one ballot for the election of Dr. Eggleston, and, this being done, he was declared a duly elected member of the Board of Trustees of the John F. Slater Fund.

Dr. Wickliffe Rose having been elected President of the General Education Board then presented his resignation as a Trustee, which resignation was accepted with regret.

REPORTS

COUNTY TRAINING SCHOOLS

In 1913 the following communication was addressed to State Superintendents of Education:

"It has been found that a very large majority, perhaps 90 per cent, of the teachers in the country schools for colored children have obtained in local schools what education they have. One idea in the establishment of a County Training School is to provide a place where a better opportunity would be offered for the preparation of teachers in both academic and industrial lines.

"At the same time such a school would afford an opportunity for the better class of pupils to continue their education beyond the meager limits of the one-room school.

"In many counties there is already a sort of central school which might be turned, with a little additional expense into the class of school alluded to. The Slater Board is desirous of aiding more immediately than hitherto the educational conditions in the rural districts, and would be willing to coöperate with county boards and superintendents in any effort to improve the character and quality of teaching in the country schools."

This communication met with general approval and from this time the number of such schools steadily increased. Already, that is in the session of 1911-12, four had been established in response to requests from county superintendents.

The following comparison shows the remarkable growth of these schools:

Number of schools	4	179
Number of teachers	20	1,102
Average salary	$ 267	$ 631
Salaries paid through Slater Fund.....	2,000	63,300
Salaries paid by General Education Board.....		46,641
Salaries paid from Public Funds.....	3,344	513,193
Total receipts for all purposes	11,369	1,001,889

In 1922-23 sixty of these schools had teachers' homes and forty-one had dormitories. Nearly all had boarders in nearby homes.

The offer of the Slater Fund is to give $500 for salaries of teachers on the following conditions:

1. The school property shall belong to the state, county, or district, and the school shall be a part of the public school system.

2. There shall be an appropriation for salaries of not less than $1,000 from public funds raised by state, county, or district taxation.

3. The length of term shall be at least eight months.

4. The teaching shall extend through the eighth year, with the intention of adding at least two years as soon as it shall be possible to make such extension.

In 1915-16 the General Education Board adopted the policy of assisting with appropriations for buying needed equipment, and also in aid of erecting workshops and teachers' homes. In 1920 the General Education Board made an appropriation to these schools for increasing teachers' salaries, with the stipulation that the amount to be appropriated would be diminished by one-fifth of the original amount each year, ceasing altogether at the expiration of five years.

Three pamphlets have been published in regard to the work of the Training Schools (Occasional Papers, 14, 18 and 23).*

The following is a list of the schools for the session 1922-23, with names of county, post office, county superintendent, and principal:

Independent. Number of teachers: men, 10; women, 30. Attendance: male, 136; female, 166. Total, 302. Number above elementary grade, 37. Boarders: male, 55; female, 51. Value of property, $188,616. Total amount paid for salaries, $27,353. Total paid for salaries of teachers, $16,789. Received from Slater Fund, $900; endowment, $8,248; General Education Board, $7,500; Phelps-Stokes Fund, $750; other sources, $70,888.

Extract from report of Principal:

"The dormitories were crowded and applicants refused. The number of students coming from the community daily was somewhat lessened owing to the poverty in the neighborhood caused by two calamity years of desperately poor crops. The tone of the student life was excellent. Sixteen were graduated from the junior high school, a good proportion of whom will attend other schools in the fall.

"1922-23 was the thirty-first year of the school. A special effort was made along financial lines to raise funds sufficient to cover all current expenses and the floating indebtedness brought forward from the previous year. This sum was secured. The budget for the year was reduced from previous year by $10,000 to $74,000. We lived within the budget. It was decided to reduce expenses for the coming year 1923-24 by another $10,000, living within $64,000, hoping that by June 1, 1924, we not only would be free of any indebtedness, but also would secure additional regular contributors.

"Two days before the opening of school in October, 1922, the mill and much machinery were totally destroyed by fire, caused by the back firing of an engine. There was also a fire in the service part of the principal's cottage. This started in the room for hot water heater. Splendid work on the part of teachers and fifty boys saved the main part of the building from any harm."

"The Agricultural Agent's discussions of progressive methods of farming and coöperative marketing with the farmers upon their several farms, the establishment of live farmers' organizations for conferences as to methods and results, and for coöperative buying of fertilizers and food stuffs, convincing instruction in practical, profitable methods, the actual results of which have been exhibited in moving pictures, have done much to encourage and steady a discouraged, restless agricultural people.

"In the Kirksey Association coöperative buying of grains saved the farmers \$265. Following the instructions of the agent, eight farmers in the Cokesbury Association on a $\frac{1}{2}$ acre averaged 43 bushels of Irish potatoes as against 12 bushels the previous year. Ten farmers in the county carried on corn demonstrations on five acres. Eight farmers reported the average yield of 37 bushels as against 15 bushels raised without the supervision of the agent. Sixty farmers declared themselves helped by this demonstration. Several demonstrations in orcharding have been well attended, two orchards set out, six orchards pruned and sprayed. In a needy community those who could painted their houses, others used whitewash. Twenty-five buildings were whitewashed.

"Moving pictures have been very effective, often more so than verbal discussions of the agent in visualizing demonstration work.

"Progress has been made in the development of the raising of cattle, hogs, poultry. Conversions are being made to the conservation of natural fertilizers, and to the use of commercial fertilizers to supplement fertilizers made on the farm.

"The County Farmers Advisory Board, made up of three delegates from the Farmers Associations of the organized communities, and representatives from other sections, meeting monthly to arrange for carrying out the agent's farm program, and to report emergency situations in any community, made three auto tours to different sections of the county to study the agent's projects carried on in those sections. This Board in buying $998 worth of foodstuffs and grain saved $118.00."

Extract from report of Principal:

"With a school term that fits into the local rural conditions, we are able to complete the ninth grade. Country children are kept home to help raise the crops. When Penn School changed its schedule allowing for home farming according to the crop season, our average daily attendance immediately improved. 'Home Days' mean the putting into practice agricultural class room lessons and the home acres are supervised regularly by the teachers, and that work counts for the pupils. The crop is measured, and the interest kept up to a high pitch as the records are given publicly, prizes are won, and the young farmers are given front seats at the Farmers' Fair, in the autumn. Four local friends, two of them our merchants, gave four of our progressive young farmers a trip to the State Fair as prizes for 1923.

"Industrial education for a whole community is the aim of Penn School and much is accomplished through the school and community clubs and classes, thirteen in number with a membership of 696. The Frissell Memorial Community House has been started, the school using Island spirit, muscle, and materials in its construction. Island men and boys, their own steer carts, the school's sail boat, oyster shells and sand from our rivers, all combine to make a house that shall fit into the needs of the people and be theirs. The teacher in charge of the construction is a native Islander, a graduate of Penn, and a graduate of Hampton."

"Of the nine young people graduated from the 12th grade this year all had special teacher training. One was a nurse by trade, two were especially trained in cooking, three were specially trained in plain sewing, and one was a trained printer.

"The teaching force this last year presented Voorhees with a motor truck at a cost of nearly $500. This amount from teachers who get $40 and board among the women, and about $70 and board among the men was a source of much gratification to us here.

"Our senior class gave the school a very beautiful clock as a parting token of their love.

"Eight hundred people were present at our Farmers Conference in February. They were instructed by Professor Carver from Tuskegee."

Manassas Industrial School, Manassas.

Principal, Edward D. Howe.

Independent. Number of teachers: men, 7; women, 8. Attendance: male, 65; female, 93. Total, 158. Number above elementary grade, 49. Boarders: male, 45; female, 86. Value of property, $81,163. Total amount paid for salaries, $18,950. Total paid for salaries of teachers, $8,130. Received from Slater Fund, $600; from endowment, $1,111; Cleveland Dodge Foundation and Miner Board, $1,774; other sources (mostly private subscriptions), $20,369.

Extract from report of Principal:

"The past session was an unusually good one for the school in point of attendance and academic attainment. Of the 158 students enrolled, 123 were boarders and resided in the dormitories. Steady progress has been made toward higher standards and greater efficiency. Our High School has been placed on the accredited list by the State Board of Education, and it is also gratifying to note the improvement of the farm and the better results of our efforts in agriculture.

"Financially the year was a hard one. Money was hard to raise to meet current expenses. Though discouraged, the contributing friends of the school rallied, and the colored people put on a campaign to raise $8,000. About one-half of this sum has been received in cash, which greatly relieves the strained condition."

St. Paul Normal and Industrial School, Lawrenceville.

Principal, James S. Russell.

Episcopal. Number of teachers: men, 8; women, 14. Attendance: male, 271; female, 338. Total, 609. Number above elementary grade, 245. Boarders: male, 172; female, 175. Value of property, $231,693. Total amount paid for salaries, $42,249. Total paid for salaries of teachers, $23,419. Received from Slater Fund, $600; from endowment, $6,461; General Education Board, $1,500; American Church Institute, $39,999; other sources, $48,838.

Extract from report of Principal:

"The item of $35,323.66 listed in the receipt from other sources includes the balance on the sale of $43,000 worth of our timber. The school having accumulated an indebtedness in the past years in order to provide necessary equipment, the Board of Trustees appropriated this money for the purpose of liquidating these obligations. The school still retains about a million and a half feet of timber.

"There has been an unusually large demand during the past five years for just the type of leaders that are being turned out by our Church Schools. To supply this very necessary service, St. Paul School began this year a special Teacher Training Course for three of its graduates returning for the purpose. For the 1923-24 session, sixteen persons have already registered for the course."

COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES

The nineteen institutions aided by the Slater Fund under this class reported 1,484 college students in a total enrollment of 9,956. All of these institutions were directly aided by some church connection except Atlanta University.
